

Ann Hebert

April 28, 1944 - April 28, 2026

Ann Marie Hebert (Harris), a loving mother, devoted grandmother, faithful servant of Christ, and treasured friend, passed away peacefully on April 28, 2026, in Oakland Township, Michigan,

Born on April 28, 1944, in Detroit, Michigan, Ann lived a life defined by her care for others and her deep commitment to family, friends, neighbors, and all those God placed in her path. She had a bright, welcoming personality, an infectious sense of humor, and a gift for making people feel immediately at ease. Ann never met a stranger—only a new friend she had yet to know well.

Above all else, Ann was most proud of her family and the happiness and success that grew from her unconditional love and support. She showed love through her presence and genuine interest in the lives of others—always extending an invitation for lunch, dinner, or a game of cards as a way to stay connected and share life together. Her loud, contagious laugh filled rooms, and her accepting heart made people feel seen, valued, and cared for.

Ann had a strong faith in our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ, which guided her life and inspired her commitment and sacrifice for family, friends, and particularly for those who were less fortunate or in need. Her impact was felt not through grand gestures, but through the thoughtful care she consistently showed to ensure others were taken care of.

She loved to socialize, meet new people, play games, and spend time visiting with her grandchildren, each of whom brought her immense joy. Ann also cherished the many years of travel she shared with her beloved husband, journeying together through Japan, Europe, and much of North America, creating memories that spanned the globe.

Ann was preceded in death by her devoted husband, Gerald Hebert, and her brothers, Tom and Pat. She is survived by her loving children and their spouses: Greg and Cathy, Laura and Edward, and Paul and Tawanda. She was a proud and devoted grandmother to Danielle, Samantha, and Sydney; Adam, Ethan, and Eric; and Carrie and Joseph. Her legacy of love, faith, generosity, and connection lives on through each of them.

Ann will be remembered for her warmth, her laughter, her unwavering devotion, and the countless lives she touched simply by caring deeply. She leaves behind a family and community forever changed—and better—for having been loved by her.
