“ I am sorry to hear about the death of your love ones. Do you know that Jesus promised a future at ( John 5:28,29) which says that do not be amazed but those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out. Also notice another scripture at ( Acts 24:15) which says that there going to be a resurrection for both the righteous and the unrighteous this scripture is very confronting and also notice another thought at ( Revelation 21:4) says death will be no more neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore the former things had past away. These all the times I am looking forward to see my love ones that I had lost.. I hope this thought confront you and your family and my love goes out to you and your family
