*I was so sorry to read of Brenda is passing. I know how difficult her loss is for you. I also understand how difficult the last several years must have been. Alzheimer's disease slowly steals those aspects that make relationships with our loved ones so wonderful. Brenda was a kind, sensitive and thoughtful person. I think about you and Brenda when I see your book Life Is Hell Without A Hankie which sits across from the desk in my home library. I enjoyed the many times we spent together in my office and the conversations I had with both of you. I know the path of your next journey will be as fulfilling as the previous.*
