“ Many years ago Patty and I rode our snowmobiles in a charity ride for the Easter Seals. Well, we were on I-75 heading north. Patty was driving and Dave and I were passengers. Dave began to holler for Patty to pull over. Patty is hollaring back "why?" Dave said "just pull over. I think I see a video camera." So Patty, being the obedient wife, pulls over. Dave jumped out of the car and Patty and I are in the car cracking up. Sure enough, Dave comes running back to the car and he knocks on the car window and holds up "the video camera"...an empty 4 quart plastic oil bottle! The 3 of us laughed so hard that we had to sit there for a bit to calm down. I love you my dear sweet brother-in-law. May you RIP Dave ❤️❤️❤️

“ Remember Boxing Dave in gym class, we were the closest to each other in weight even though Dave was a little bit bigger I remember him knocking me down (more than once) and kept telling me to stay down (I didn't) we both wound up laughing at the end of the match. Thanks Dave

“ Funny to the end.....Dave & I were making it a practice to go to the show after chemo treatments in the beginning.....on one such day as we were leaving yet another crappy movie we spotted a credit card on the ground by my car, Dave went to take the card inside to the manager ...when he returned to the car where I waited he told me a story....he had run into a guy whom he had not seen in some time and the guy ask Dave what was new...well Dave was thinking "what do I say ????? well, he decided to answer by saying "well.....I have the big C"so I said to him "are you kidding me..."the big C" ?? that is what you told him and he said yes, that is all he could think of saying.....we cracked up laughing so hard.....I treasure those days, he was having fun, laughing and being Dave.....funny, happy, Dave in spite of having cancer

..... love you my brother.....

“ I was out of town on business, and our beloved family dog Sheba (whom we thought had beaten mammary cancer through surgery) quickly fell ill just as I was leaving for the airport. She went downhill quickly the next day or two, and my daughter Sam was forced to deal with the situation. She went around the neighborhood looking for a a ride to the vet. As you can guess, Dave took her- all the way up past Yale to our vet- a really long ride when there are other vets much closer. They ended up having to put her to sleep, and Dave was crying right along with Sam. Not a dry eye in his car ALL way back. You are one of God's children. God Bless you Dave!

“ Dave was watching Caleb play football. Caleb had completed an incredible play. Dave had this HUGE GRIN on his face....he looked at me and said "that's my boy, he never gives up"....shook his head slowly,proudly, and tightened his grin to keep his watery eyes from turning into tears.

“ For as long as I can remember Dave and Patty were my parents' dear friends. I grew up thinking of them as family. Dave was my kind, crazy, hilariously silly uncle. I always looked forward to seeing them no matter what. We used to go to their annual parties and just have the time of our lives! Dave would take the kids for rides on the dune buggies. I remember my mom would tell him "okay Dave not too fast" and he'd agree mischievously. We'd take off and as soon as we had turned out of sight Dave would just let her rip and man would we fly. I of course loved him all the more for being my partner in crime, my cool uncle. I always felt safe, special, and so loved. He just had such a warmth and light inside that it was infectious! I love you Dave. My love and prayers to his equally wonderful family. I hope these memories comfort all of you as they have me.

Love Jenny

“ Patty and family- I am so sorry to hear of the loss of your beloved husband and father. I loved working with Dave at Mechanical Control Heating & Cooling and will fondly remember his dedication, hard work, and his smile. He loved life, his family, and his pets and had a loving heart the size of Texas. Rest in peace my friend and may perpetual light always shine upon you. With much sympathy Jane & Don Malcolm
