“ Dee & many of the family bowled with Charlotte Chenier, I am her daughter Judy who became friends of the family & Keith. Sandi Ngiala has kept me informed & I just received the note. What another loss for the Browns but another one look over the rest of you.

Charlotte passed suddenly on 11/5/2013

Prayers for the family

Last time I was down at the bowling lanes was way back in 1986 with my baby Kimberly, well she now is a mother & I am a grandma.

“ What an amazing lady & friend! Even though we did not spend much time together the past couple of years, I treasure the fun times & memories we did have. I loved hanging out with Dee, watching her favorite shows, watching her excitement grow as she got ready for the 3 day walk or talking about the adventures she had in the military and with her sisters. The best was when she talked about her family, especially the nieces and nephews. Her eyes lit up when she told me of a latest call or visit and was always so proud & displayed beautiful pictures of her growing family around her apartment. I have not met anyone with a bigger heart or a more infectious smile. She was such a positive influence in my life and the greatest friend anyone could ask for. I hope God created the perfect golf course just for her.

“ Well, we talked about Dee handing over the recipe for the family "baked beans" but sadly we never sat down to talk about them, so Dee, If you dont come to me in a dream and give me the recipe, I will have to get it from one of your sisters, and I will be the bean queen if you let me...I hope you are laughing!! I will try to make you proud, and I am sure if I screw them up, I will hear you telling me somehow from above! love ya, say HI to my dad and my bestie Michelle for me!
Tracy, aka, bean queen?? lol

“ It's the little things, the small, everyday occurrences that you'll remember. The laughs, the stories and the smiles (these are the things that I will continue to cherish and enjoy from each of you). And even though it seems like you can never recover from our loss, it is these very memories that will help push the pain away and bring back the smiles.
Lots of Love and Hugs to you All!
XOXO
