“ Too many great memories to share, but all the talk, fun, sadness and love will be spread around in constant conversation today, tomorrow and years to come. You were a great influence to me in my youth and it will forever be remembered. Thank you for being a mom, friend and teacher are the main things that comes to mind. But mainly thank you for being YOU!!

“ I had the privilege of knowing Diana as a fellow bartender at the Sterling Inn for many yrs. she became a great caring friend even after I left there in '10. She was as genuine as anyone could possibly be. She so loved her family and we would share our struggles and strengths in our lengthy girl talk. The best was the laughter shared when nobody else got it. It was our Polish connection I guess. After mid nite on ocassion, we'd head over to her fav dead beat restaurant for fried cheese. She introduced me to. You are gonna be missed and I'm sure your spirit will remind me each and every day to shed a random act of kindness in likeness of yourself. 💕 You Diana. Until we meet again I 🙏

“ Diana will be missed by all that worked with her at the Sterling Inn. She always smiled and had good things to say about everyone. She always asked how my family was doing, and would talk about her Children and grandchildren, I'll miss those conversations. Rest in Peace Diana.

*"Mrs. Radtke" was the best neighbor anyone could ever imagine. We were fortunate to have her living example right next door for many years in Sterling Heights. There are so many good memories of the Radtke family but one thing that stands out for me about Diana was the way she always seemed genuinely excited whenever she saw someone...as if you were the exact person she was hoping to see. I try to emulate that behavior but sometimes I fail. That was one of the great things about Diana--I don't think she had to remind herself to greet everyone with warmth because she just was sweet, inviting, accepting and loving, not to mention humorous and hardworking, too. May God embrace all of her loved ones. Offering our condolences and hugs,
