“ Joe, my deepest condolences go out to you and the family. I know you will miss your dad. I want you to know that he is resting in the arms of the Lord. He was on loan to us from him. We must all return one day to our maker. I am praying for comfort and healing. -R.M. Eubanks

“ Our condolences on your father's passing. He lead a long and impactful life. I'll always remember when he facilitated me meeting Ernie Harwell at his church. May he R.I.P. You and yours are in our prayers during this difficult time. 🙏🥹

“ I've known Joe, his mother and father since 1991. My fondest memory of Mr. G was my 21st birthday. I went with Joe and a cohort of others around town, indulged too much, but had a good time. Joe and I arrived at his home around 03:00am, and promptly went to bed. I was up around 9am, Joe was still sleeping. Mr. G and I talked, and watched morning talk shows until he woke Joe up around 12. "Joseph, get up, Mr. Ed has been up since 9" Mr. and Mrs. G always made me feel welcome, and I felt as if they were my own aunt and uncle.
