“ I grew up across the street from Doris Petersen Boris and have known her all my life. There are 16 months between myself and my sister and Doris was born right in the middle so we were like the Three Musketeers... Her grandmother Fisher traveled all over the US via Greyhound Bus with Doris. I think this developed Doris's love of travel. As kids our favorite musical was OKLAHOMA and we knew every song. We have stayed in touch through out the years and in fact were roommates in the 1970s at the Leland House. She was going to Wayne State for her Masters and I was working at Northwest Airlines in reservations. How we managed to stay out of trouble is beyond me. We both raised out girls and she was so looking forward to Andie's wedding. Doris came to California in January of this year and we had a great time. Finally went to Catalina, someplace she has always wanted to visit. In March of this year I visited Michigan and she and I got together twice. Once I made Portuguese Pancakes with Doris and Alana, sent pics to Andie to make her jealous (LOL), She helped me pick out fabrics for a tie-blanket I wanted to make, ate lunch at Kruse and Muers, and I saw her condo for the first time. I will miss her as she was taken too soon and angry with God as I was not done with her. (this too will pass) She and I had much more to do ... but now she is in heaven making fresh costumes for the angels. I love her so much!!!

“Doris came to Avon Players to costume "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof", and I was Producer. We bonded immediately. She clearly loved theatre, creating character thru costume, her sewing circles and people in general. When I took CASA training she was full of support and advice. I am honored she welcomed me to her friend and sewing circles. She taught me to use the sewing machine without fear. This week I was planning a vacation, and because of Doris have chosen to see her beloved Philly. Andi and Alana (a Layne Na!) Made her always proud and happy. May Doris enjoy costuming the angels in heaven.

“Death of a loved one bring about many emotions from anger to sadness. It's unfair that death can take away someone you loved and the pain can't be erased. One promise the bible holds out is a resurrection of the dead. John 11:20-25. It gives us something to look towards.

“Doris was my first real connection at Stagecrafter's. I was used to helping every department for community theater and offered to help with costumes. I only ended up buying some boots, but appreciated Doris recognizing my need to connect and encouraging me.

“ Andie, Alana, and Chuck, our deepest condolences. Ira and I have such fond memories of Doris and the girls growing up. She was a wonderful person and always helpful, supportive, and welcoming to us when we first arrived at Holy Cross and all through high school years. Sincerely, Marcy, Ira Weisberg, Melissa and Jessica Mattioli

“ I first met Doris at Volleyball at the Auburn Hills Community Center about 2008. She liked to travel and we did some fun trips together. She made beautiful quilts and was so busy with the theatre. I was always amazed at how hard she worked. She was a good friend and I will miss her dearly. Patty Bedard

“ I was lucky enough to get to know Doris while I volunteered at Stagecrafters. Our first show together was Les Mis, and we spent hours talking, venting, and laughing together. She was a very important part of the theatre community, and I will never be able to sit in the theatre again without thinking of the time we spent together. Gone much too soon, and missed by many.

“ I met Doris while she was costuming a play. Not only was she a talented, hardworking person, she was also, well, Doris... Wise, caring, smiling, clever, completely likable Doris. You will be missed... and remembered.

“ I'm so saddened to hear of the passing of Doris. I knew Doris when she was a social worker in Philadelphia. She really stood out professionally and we became friends. I even helped out Alana when she got into a small, ridiculous situation (though your mom had to pick me up since I had broken my foot and couldn't drive- we still managed to scare them into a good resolution). She did love her family so much and was so happy to be moving to Michigan. Sweet dreams Doris. Jo-Ann Braverman

“ Doris Boris was my supervisor at DHS for several years. She was an informative supervisor. Everything she knew she taught and she knew a lot. She also loved her daughters tremendously and talked about them often. My condolences and prayers for her family.

This is a sad news. Doris was my supervisor at DHS and was the girl scouts leader for my daughter. My prayers and thoughts are with the family at this time of sorrow.

As a data manager, I had much contact with Doris during her tenure at DHS. We had long talks during the day as she sometimes expressed her dismay at some of the case reports she received and had to work through. My sincerest condolences to the family.
