“ I knew Duke most of my life, I remember a once when he came to visit .He had a special knock that would let her and us know it was him. Then Ann would whistle to let him know it was ok to come in. I had a parakeet as a pet and that day Ann was not home. So when he knocked it was the parakeet that answered him. He came in and was surprised to find that Ann wasn't there and that my bird was the one that whistled him in!
