“ "Gentle Giant with a hearty laugh" is how I describe Mr. Frank Valko. Through my childhood years, when hanging out with Bryan at the Valko household, there was no question that this 'Gentle Giant' was the king of his castle. He had a commanding presence, but also a sense of humor which softened any intimidating feeling of that presence. He was always very friendly to my parents. Perhaps he's met up with them in heaven. You're in paradise now Mr. Valko. To the Valko family, peace and love to all of you.

“ Pat, remember your and Frank's wedding anniversary that we spent together at Silver Lake? We made that Brazilian BBQ pit in the sand and then Dago got out his camera to take pictures of us making elaborate poses? Only to discover later that there was no film in the camera? Good times and great memories.....

“ Dago and I will never forget the time we went up north together and decided to take some souvenirs home from the park. We waited until dark. Snuck in slowly, carefully... Even turned the headlights off of the car. Our booty were those big beautiful rocks that are all over the place on the beach at Lake Huron. We loaded the car with rocks, even got stuck in the mud from the weight. Just when we thought we had outsmarted the park rangers, guess who gets caught? The most innocent of the bunch, Frank Valko!

We had so many great memories together throughout the years, you will be missed

Frank. Rest in peace ❤️
