“ I didn't know Joe very well, but one thing that always impressed me about him was how he took care of his family during the recession. His work in human resources and recruiting fell off because no one was hiring, but that didn't stop Joe. He worked as a waiter and then in hospital maintenance to ensure the bills were paid and Suzie, Maddie and Joey were taken care of. He did these jobs with dignity and pride because he knew they were just steps he had to take. Suzie, Maddie and Joey, please always remember that this was just one of the many ways Joe showed his love for you.

My condolences to you and please know my thoughts are with you.
