“ Diane and I shared a childhood of mischief and silliness unlike I shared with anyone else. As cousins we road broomsticks together and called them horses. We made up stories, sang songs, saved pennies and wrote many letters each week looking forward to the weekend when we would see each other. She liked to say we were kindred spirits mostly I think because she liked the way that sounded. We did not see as much of each other once we started raising our families but I always felt her love. My deepest sympathy to Tom, David, Tammy, Sandy, Ray and the kids. She will be sorely missed by all of us.
