“ June was simply the best. There are no words to fully describe her kindness, warmth, and care. She is one-of-a-kind and did more than support me during some challenging years as I trudged through my dissertation. She brought a unique love to her work through her teaching, listening, editing, and her amazingly brilliant mind. June understood things— both emotionally and quantitatively on a level that far succeeds most. What a rare gift to have such a balanced intellectual capacity with wit and a lifetime of wisdom to go along with it. She taught me to write. She taught me to think beyond and she helped instill a patience for an often very slow and rigorous process that goes along with most academic work. June was curious in learning just about anything and we would have all sorts of conversations on all sorts of topics. She was a support to me not only professionally, but personally for many of the blessings (both hard and wonderful) that life has brought over the last 10 years. Shortly after meeting her— I told a friend that if she were going to review and edit my work, I must know about her. I did not think that my need to understand June and the work that she did (and her why) would have led to a decade of time so we’ll spend together. I learned about the many incredible people in her life both family and friends and friends who became her family (each of you). I heard about her many jobs and the incredible ways she chose to use her talents and time. I learned all about Jeff, Dina, Dennis, and her so loved grandchildren.

I am grateful to June for sharing her brilliant mind and her heart with me. I continue to write as much as I possibly can— and I hear June’s voice in my head often. Thank you for the beautiful gifts you shared with me through your care, kindness, encouragement, and truly such an unbelievably brilliant and precocious mind. Forever in my heart!! Sending love, prayers, and my most sincere condolences to all those whose lives were touched by June.

“ June was more than an editor or consultant. She had a brilliant mind and a kind heart. She enabled many of us work through our emotional "writers cramp." June could always help me find a solution for the harshest criticism I received as I went through the gruesome process of peer review of scientific manuscripts! Your legacy will continue in our published works!

“ June was an exceptional educator who was not only brilliant, but demanded excellence in those she assisted. Her legacy stands tall and now, she may rest in peace knowing that we may take up the baton. The space she leaves as a coach, a mentor and a brutal editor can never be filled. As a friend, her absence will forever be felt and the field of education lost a truly brilliant mind and gift to all.

My condolences to the her family, and her grandchildren that she was so proud of. Thanking for sharing her with so many of us who were so fortunate to know her.

“ Aunt June will be deeply missed. She is a part of so many cherished memories from my childhood. My first real job was helping her with statistics via surveys for her students. I always credit her for the professional path I chose to pursue. May she now rest in the kingdom of heaven with her family, friends and loved ones who passed before her.

“ June was my go-to sweet kind educated well informed mentor. We shared loads of personal information always during the course of the time while we were working about my grandkids and her grandkids, especially Sarah, about her precious son, Jeff, as well as worldly events. I knew her family through and through. As well as she knew mine.

I give June much credit for allowing me to obtain my doctoral degree starting in 2009 up until 2015. We spend lots of time together on the phone at her house and maybe a restaurant or two. I will truly miss you and never ever forget you June. You deserve your rest. No more oxygen no more medication no more support stockings no more blanket on your shoulders or going back and forth to the doctor or in and out of the hospital. And no more sitting up to sleep. I love you June and God loves you more so you're at peace now and forever. Amen

“ June and I met in 2012, while in my Ed.d program. She and I would meet every week for about 2-3 years as she helped me edit my dissertation. June didn't take no prisoners, she would ask the tough questions and expected you to know your research. I remember, She would always have some variety of chocolate candy sitting on yhe desk. I would always take a few and eat a few while watching her demolish almost everything I wrote for that session. I would sit and watch her do her editing, and eat my chocolate 🍫. The cats will always sneak up on me, and scare me. ☐ She loved her cats and snacks. I also remember buying her a water bottle, like she needed another one. But, I would see her pour her choice of drink (usually Soda) into her large tumbler and sip, and write, rub the cats, edit, and repeat. June was a MASTER editor and an overall good person to work with. She will be tremendously missed in the educational and research community. My sincere condolences to the family on the loss of a GREAT woman and Amazing Writer and Editor! 🙏☐🙏☐
