“ I grew up two doors down from Larry on Ira. I just learned of his passing. This saddens me. Larry was always such a nice, kind-hearted guy. Always tinkering around with his cars. At the time he had a red Corvette Stingray, and a blue Mercedes Benz. I know he probably thought of me as the annoying little girl that would always come over and bother him when he was trying to get work done, but he never treated me like that. He was always chewing on straws too. He said it was because he quit smoking. I only know this because I asked him one time why he was always chewing on straws and he said "You ask a lot of questions don't you?" and then he told me why. I feel so bad for the family. I know Larry had two brothers that passed. I could not imagine. My heart goes out to his boys.

“ Our circle of friends called him "Big Larry", we met in High School around 1981, and though I don't remember the class, a brotherhood was born. My notebook had Ford on it and he noticed and asked if I was into cars? He was into MoPars at the time, now I'm MoPar and he Chevy. Our friendship really took off after graduation. We both worked for Bonnie Bread on 8 and Woodward. We fought Ghosts with the Ghostbusters, went back in time with Marty and Doc, and Larry tried to get the Z28 up to 88 mph on Van Dyke. We were such good friends my dad would call him his 3rd son. From Bartles & James to Budweiser, softball at Shaw park to car shows in other states, we did all together. When we both wanted to move out, it was Larry that suggested we pool our funds to get a decent place. Thanks to Larry that one night at Jerry's restaurant, when 2 cute waitresses paid us attention, with no pen in hand wrote your number down in mustard on a plate which gave me my bride for you were the best man. You where there for the birth of my son, and then family life and jobs kept us too occupied for the last too many years. In text, we said we were going to get the gang together to catch up and now it's too late. Now I still have all the memories, but what I miss most is you. Rest your soul brother until we meet again.

“ It saddens me to think that Larry, who was always a happy guy, will not be here to share his humor with us. My family will have Connie, Kenny and Mr Suwienski in our thoughts and prayers.
