“ You were our "brother from another mother" and our heart breaks that we will not see Frankie pulling up on his bike for a visit, or hearing that raspy voice and seeing that wonderful smile. You had so many friends, touched so many people, and were so close to your family, a great brother, father, grandfather and friend.....Gone to soon, but your memory will live forever and stories will be retold for years to come.

Your free now.....Ride on.....

*Franko;
The pedals of a flowe don't always last till tomorrow,
They sometimes drop with the dew.
A rainbow in the sky isn't always high,
It sometimes floats out of view.
A fire burns good till there isn't any wood,
Then it smolders out.
Yet my Brother;
The pedals of our lives..
And the rainbow of all hold dear...
Will never let the fires in our hearts go out..
.....I'm gonna miss you Franko. Already miss your sharing your sleepless early mornings on the road with me.
No more pain, no more tears. There is no pain or tears in heaven brother. Till we see each other again. Keep an eye out for me till I come to join you. Keep a Harley polished for me.*

“ You drove me nuts when we were younger, but you grew up to be fine loving man! You fought many fights in your short life, and you leave behind, a ton of people that loved you. Rest in peace Frankie, and say hello to everyone from me, in that beautiful place we call heaven! You will be missed!
