“ I am so sad to hear this. Larry (as I knew him) was my boyfriend our Senior year of high school, at St. Florian, in Hamtramck MI. We were on the homecoming court together. He was my senior prom date, too. He looked so handsome that evening. I really liked him a lot. We never really broke up, I joined the Air Force and moved away after senior year..1982. We loved going to the arcade (when pacman was popular) laughing together and driving around in his Firebird, listening to music. I can still hear him singing A Girl like You by Foreigner. Last time I saw him and got to meet his lovely wife, was at our 20th HS reunion. He was so happy. His Daughters are absolutely beautiful. A blessed life. I'm so sorry to hear this, just today. God bless you Lele (my nickname for him) and prayers for your Family. Rest in Peace my Friend.

“Loren will forever be one of the most influential men in my life. I admired so much about Loren -- most importantly the way he loved his family with, to steal a phrase, "an enthusiasm unknown to mankind." Every conversation with Loren included a comment about how proud he was of his three daughters and their accomplishments. Every conversation with Loren also included a nugget of wisdom or a life lesson. He always gave me incredible guidance which I will continue to carry with me forever.

Although 23 years separated us in age, he always felt like a big brother that I never had. We met eight years ago by chance -- seated next to each other at a University of Michigan athletics banquet. After cracking more than a few jokes together at an otherwise formal banquet, I thought "man, this guy speaks my same language about how to live life and have fun." That certainly rang true. There is not enough room to go into details about all the great times together, but anyone who knows Loren, knows any time he came around, you ended up with a cherished memory for life.

Becoming friends with Loren was the gift that kept on giving. Thanks to Loren and that chance encounter at a football banquet, I was introduced to his incredible wife, daughters and brother -- amazing friends I cherish for life.

Loren always made everybody feel like somebody. He didn't care what your status was in society. It didn't matter if you were the CEO or an intern, if you were on his wavelength about life and how to treat people, you were brought into his extended family and he took care of you. In our last in-person visit together this summer, in typical Loren fashion, he practically introduced me the the entire Serbian National Federation basketball league when I came to meet him for breakfast.

In a time and generation where people my age text more than talking on the phone, Loren's monthly phone calls to talk about basketball and life will always be some of my most cherish memories. Any time he called, you knew you were in for a good story and a good laugh.

We will continue to honor your legacy through lots of laughs, lots of love and lots of adventures. Sending all my love to his wonderful family.

“ *I used to come into the icecream shop when your family owned it because it was at my corner. I work at Detroit Mercy and I remember the day I saw Loren in our Admissions lobby and made the connection. I'm so very sorry - Loren was always so kind and energetic and his love for his family was so inspiring. Madison, I miss seeing you on campus. I think of you often. “ Prayers to the family--my wife and I met him on a vacation a few years ago....but we quickly realized how many common friends we had. “ Loren was a great husband, great father, and a great human being. He was one tremendous basketball coach. I remember he had promised his Harper Woods basketball team that if they beat our De La Salle basketball team, he would shave his head. And guess what: He followed through, and did as he promised. He was a competitor and a great friend. No question, he left this earth too soon; yet, he left it a much better place.

“ Loren was an amazing and inspiring coach. While he loved to win, but that wasn't always his focus. He thrived when teaching kids about sports and how to improve themselves on the field and off it. He helped me and so many other students grow throughout junior high and high school. He was so passionate about his work too. I recall one time, Fuhrmann's girls' basketball team was playing our rival school and he was so excited while coaching, he passed out when after we won. Even after high school at Joe Dumars, he continued to coach myself and others, and instilled the importance of team sports and staying active while there. Heaven has gained another angel. You will be missed, Coach Loren. I am so glad to have reconnected in recent years and devastated to hear of your passing, My deepest condolences to the Ristovski family.

“ We remember well Loren worked for our law firm, Powers Chapman, many years ago. He was a happy, intelligent man. He thought about going to law school at one time, but basketball intervened and played a great role in his life. I still have a basketball that Lauren gave me from the Detroit Pistons, it was very thoughtful. My wife and I remember attending the wedding which was a spectacular holy day. God had a plan to call Lauren home early. We are sure that he will be deeply missed by his wife and three lovely daughters. Our prayers and good thoughts are with all of you. “ My prayers and condolences to the Ristovski family on your loss, which is a loss for so many. I saw him at River Rouge HS not too long ago and we gave each other the biggest hug and he said he would call me for some referee assignments. He and I officiated a lot of basketball games together, mostly at St John/s Armenian Church. The games were distantly secondary to talking with him about basketball, education, and family. We would get into our conversations so deeply that the players had to remind us we had a game to work. I am blessed to have known him.

“ I had the opportunity to work with Loren when he was AD at Harper Woods, and I was at the AD at Lutheran East. I will never forget Loren's passion for basketball, the work he put in, his relentless effort, and his love for his family. There was never a time when we would get together that Loren wouldn't have a new story to share. Loren was one of the best men I have ever met. Deepest condolences to the Ristovski family.

“ Coach Loren, I will never forget my time learning from you at Joe Dumars camps in the summer. You set my entire mindset for the rest of my basketball career in those few weeks I was able to share with you. I will never forget the love you shared for your sweet children, and how they had your exact smile. Thank you for being a light in this life for so many. Praying for the entire family, may Jesus wrap you all tightly in his arms.
