“ I loved lorrie so much she use to be the light of BestBuy when I was there. She was my golden girl. We use to have so much girl talk and joke all day long. She would let me vent to her about anything g and we would show pictures of the babies back the . She always had a smile on Her face no matter what she was going through. Gonna miss that lady. love you and extended hugs to her family and friends

ME

“ Mom

For thirty one years, you were there for me. You picked me up whenever I fell, and you were there to watch over me, when I needed to attempt standing on my own two feet.

We had so so many adventures, you and I. From spontaneous road trips, to complete relocations. From the Living room picnics, movie dates, the little accidents to hospital stints. There are so many memories, so many things that make me smile, laugh, cry or want to scream as I think of them.

We've had quite the roller coaster ride, you and I. Through the scary parts; the ones that you close your eyes for, praying to be over, the fun and the thrill of being always shown through. You made sure of that, no matter what the cost was to you.

You taught me what unconditional love is and how to find it. You taught me what real strength is and how to utilize it, even when curling up into a ball sounds better. You were and will always be, my solace in a storm. I will miss you everyday, but I will also think of you everyday. And of course, "I will look to the stars to see you"

I Love you mommaski.

“ I wouldn't even know where to begin to share a memory of my sister ..I have a lifetime full. Endless late night talks over coffee . movie nights , watching the same movies we had seen 10 times before . you always trying to get me to read those ridiculous romance novels you loved so much. Singing along to the radio and getting mad because you could sing so much better than me. Holidays all together with mom and dad , those were the best of times! . your children's births, then mine. Picking out each others "boyfriends" from the passing cars on our many road trips. All the weekend bbqs in the old neighborhood watching the guys drink beer and throw shoes as we made fun of them . ...I think one of my favorite memories is when we went rock picking to our favorite beach up north with you ...now every time we put a rock in a sock, we will think of you . when we see people rolling in the waves we will think of you. When we see kids burying each other in the sand, we will think of you . Every time Jeff starts a fire, we will think of you .When we see red rocks we will think of you ..that particular day was a GREAT day .. I heard you laugh over and over as you told different people about the antics of that day so I know it was a great day for you as well ... I will miss our laughs , our cries, our talks and even our fights... I will miss them because I know they won't happen again in my lifetime . you have always been and will always be special to me. Through everything I loved you and I know you loved me . you are missed and you will always be missed til we are together again.... Give mom and pops my love ..rest peacefully my beautiful sis....

“ Lorrie was like a second mom to me, we’ve shared many great laughs, and unfortunately mourned the lost of her beautiful granddaughter Abbie together. It’s so sad to know that you’re no longer with us “Mom”, but you’ll never be forgotten! I love you, rest in my peace!!!
