“ Dear Killewald family, I am so very sorry at the loss of your son. Everytime I see a child suffer from lymphoma I feel such a sadness as a non-hodgkins lymphoma survivor. Every year I fundraise with the Leukemia Lymphoma Society and can only say I will work even harder to help find a cure, no child should go through this. Your son was a very brave young man.

“ Dearest Killewald Family, my deepest condolences to your entire family. My son, Jonathon knew Mac briefly, and his heart is broken. I know what it is like to lose a child so young. I won't tell you in time it gets easier, because unfortunately, it doesn't. Mac will always be in your hearts, and your memories will stay with you forever. May god bless you now and forever.. Sincerely, Laura & Jonathon Aldrich

“ *Dear Jerry and Jennifer; I can't begin to express the sorrow that is in my heart for you and your family. I hope I was of some comfort to you and Jen at the hospital and I hope I can be of some comfort even now. Although I can't explain the outcome in light of our prayers faith and petitions to God...one thing I do know and that is that God loves you and Mac more than we could ever understand and if Mac could communicate with you now he would say "I'm more than OK." “ Jerry and Jen,
You have thanked us countless times for little things when it is us that have grown, learned and gained so much from the generous sharing of your wonderful family with ours. Our brave and courageous Mac was certainly blessed with amazing parents, grandparents, aunts and uncles. He talked about all of you quite frequently and how good you were to him. I know Mac will always be with us in Spirit. I feel, for our benefit, he has personally touched his little brothers with the "skate bug" so the Killewald family will continue to remain an active part of our extended family.
WE WIN!!!

“ We've never lost a child so we don't know your pain but we have lost loved ones and that pain we understand. You have 13 wonderful memories of Mac and for 13 years he had the most loving and caring parents any child could have. Our deepest sympathies to you and your family. Dave and Wanda Mannebach
