“ To a Dear Friend,

I am not sure why you left me so soon. We still had plenty of beers to drink, stories to tell and memories to make. I guess you were thrown a curve-ball that couldn't be hit (Myron used to say that he struggled hitting a curve-ball in his baseball days).

Every day that I look out my window, walk out my door or come in the driveway, I will look to your garage to where you made your "office". You were a constant in my life. I could always count on you.

I knew that you were a terrific friend, but the void that you have left in my heart is almost unbearable. I thank you for allowing me to be part of your life. It was a great ride that I will cherish forever. Thank you for being such a great friend to Kristin and I.

R.I.P. Myron.

“ He left us much too soon. He was always willing to lend an ear, didn't complain and always had a way of putting life into perspective. He would congratulate you on your victories in life whether they be on the ice, a project completed, a marriage, no matter what it was, big or small. His presence in our lives is much like a stone buried in the sand, on the surface may not appear to be very large until it has been removed and the depth of the hole is revealed in its entirety. Only time can wash over like the tide filling that void with the memories and good times we had together. I will miss his laugh, his fist bump when you did something good, his gentle pat on the shoulder when saying goodbye, and his friendship in general. Let your soul be at peace my friend.

“ It's been a while since I last saw Myron, but I do remember that he had a great smile. May he Rest In Peace.
