“ The first day we met you said "I hate women". I'll never forget that day because that was the day I started to threaten you with the swipe. Sunday morning mass w/ Sister Tina. You invented that that sure was a priceless year and a half. My favorite memory was when I jumped on the bar right where your beer should have been and you and your beer were on the other side of the bar and you were red as that beer label. I am going to miss you Dickhead! I love you! Love, Tina
