“ I am so sorry that I was not aware until now. My deepest sympathy to your family. I remember a high school English career project where I went to your Dad’s office and interviewed him about engineering. I also remember that while I had my college internships at GM, I rode to work every day with your Dad, since I didn’t have my own car. We worked in the same building, and I liked that he always played popular music on the radio. I remember that your Mom worked at Baldwin Library and would bring him stacks of books to read and that he especially enjoyed science fiction. He and I had a love of reading in common. I remember that he always had an electric lawn mower and so there was always a long cord. Your parents were at so many of our family birthday dinners growing up that they were just like a part of our family. Sending much love,

“ Uncle Bob was a big part of my life growing up and some part of me is sad he is now no longer in this world. I know that he had a good soul and although we don't know the details I pray that he has moved on to a better place
