“ *Tomorrow I must say goodbye to Sandy Middleton, my friend and neighbor for almost 30 years. We have been through so much over the years...the laughter, joy, tears, and heartbreak but we made it through. We grew apart due to health problems in the past couple of years....but we were always "just next door"for each other. We have raised our kids the best we could and always were there for them. It was always important that our families stick together. But, now that your body is tired and you can't fight the pain anymore, it is time to rest knowing you were the best you could be as a wife, mom, sister, and grandmother. Most of all, you were my friend and neighbor. I will miss all the good times and crazy things we did. So, Sandy get some rest for now and I hope to be your friend and neighbor at the end of my journey. Thank you for being my "just next door" friend. ht
