

Sean J. Dhoest

July 28, 1981 - June 9, 2024

It is with a heavy heart that we share the sudden loss of Sean Jerome Dhoest (42) who passed away on June 09, 2024. Sean left behind his parents Tim and Kathy Saunders. His two beloved children Ava and Nathan Dhoest, who were the light of his life. His loving brother Jacob Dhoest. Former wife Sue Dhoest and many, many more aunts, uncles, cousins, family, friends and co-workers.

Sean loved to spend time with his kids, whether it be staying up late on a weekend watching movies or spending the day at Dave and Busters. He even started sharing his passion for golf with them. There were getaway weekends and dinners out. It didn't matter what they were doing as long as Sean got to spend time with Ava and Nathan.

Sean absolutely loved his job as a lineman and the people he worked with. He spoke often of the bonds that were created with his fellow workers. He was so proud to be a part of that team.

Sean was predeceased in death by his natural father Jerome Dhoest and grandparents.

Sean was very much loved and will be missed by all who had the privilege to know him, but most of all by his children Ava and Nathan.

In lieu of flowers, memorial contributions may be made to Sean's children's future needs/college funds.

His brother Jacob has also set up a go fund me link which we have provided below.

“ Sean was a cousin of mine that I wish I could have gotten to know even better. I would see him at family events because everyone is busy nowadays. Seeing his mom and dad smiling when he showed up at a family function just getting off work and still finding time for his family even when he tired showed me what a family man he was....such a nice guy to talk to always smiling you will be so missed.

“ I didn't know Sean very long, but for the short period of time I did I have to say he was one of the most caring, funny, amazing and hardworking people ive ever known! His smile lit up the room, talking to him was so easy and we always laughed a lot! I was very saddened to learn about his passing and wish I could just hear his voice one last time as we sat in his kitchen talking about life. My condolences go out to his family and children who he talked about often and loved very much. I will forever cherish the time I got to spend with this amazing guy.

“ Sean was the hardest working man I had ever met. I dont think I ever met someone so determined in life. We met about 15 years ago at a job neither of us liked! The best part of the job is I loved who I worked with, Sean being one of them. When he left we stayed in touch throughout the years, here and there. In recent years we became super close. I talked to him almost every day. He said I was like his sister.

The last few days have been so tough not being able to check in with him and see how he was doing or to vent about something he could help with. He always had the right advice for me. He always spoke about how he loved his kids! I would get to hear updates here and there and he was always so proud of them. I will miss seeing which hat and shoe combination he picked for the day, an update on how straight his teeth have gotten or how much he ate at Taco Bell. I will miss seeing a pic of how much he ran on the treadmill. I will miss getting random storm work videos or Diesel looking at something on the wall! I will miss just hearing the excited tone of his voice about whatever was happening in his life!

He had a heart of gold and when he loved someone or something, they would know it. He loved hard. Him and I thought a lot alike and I have never quite connected with someone like that before. He will be surely missed in so many ways!!

“ dad, i love you so much. i will never stop loving you. even though i know you're not here with me physically, you were and always will be with me when i take a look at myself. your strength is with me every time i get up and push through the day. your dedication is with me every time i work out after a long, busy day. your devotion to your family is with me every time i set aside my feelings to stay strong for my brother. your work ethic is with me every day i step into my shift after a stressful day of school. dad, there are so many things that made you the great person you were. you've always inspired me to work hard and to never give up. you always believed in me when i didn't believe in myself. fly high, you will be missed.
