“ I remember Sophie while growing up in Detroit at the All Saints Parish, when it was still in Detroit. She was a wonderful woman, so kind and sweet to everyone. I'm sure she made an impact on my life and my future, becoming a priest in the national Catholic church. She was there for my first mass in Detroit as well. She did so much around the church and the local parish has lost a dear hard-working parishioner. My wife, Barbara and I remember her well. Many prayers are certainly sent her way into the family. She was loved by all the parishioners I'm sure.
