“ I can still see Todd carrying that speedway cup of coffee or drinking his Airazona mucho mango while he watched some crazy show or documentary on his phone. Just Before Todd went back to Warren Truck from SHAP, he gave me his little red B. S. button. I spent all day Friday pressing that button, it is truly B.S. that my buddy is gone. To his girls, your dad loved you so much, much more then you may have realized. Todd would proudly tell of everything new going on with you guys. Like a proud dad does, he informed me of all the progress the grandbaby was making, the cool tattoo he got of the babies footprint and the recent graduation that made him so proud. I can't speak of Todd's girls and not speak of grandma. The road trips to see Grandma, and the crazy outings he would have with her during his vist always made for great stories. I will truly miss my friend, rest in Peace Todd

*Love Always,
